

SUPER TUESDAY AT THE WORLD OF ENERGY

June 15 at 10 a.m.
(*Please note the new date)

Interested in saving money? Come join us for a great program as a representative explains how Duke Energy is becoming more energy efficient and sustainable, and how you can help. Don't miss this opportunity to learn about the newest energy efficiency programs and how they can directly save you money on your power bill. Enter to win a home energy efficiency kit as a door prize. Following the program please join us for lunch—it's our treat!

August 10 at 10 a.m.

Whether you're just beginning to trace your family roots or are well along the way, genealogy expert Anne Sheriff will provide tips that help guide you through your journey. Learn how to get started, what resources are available and where to turn if you get stuck. She'll also have advice for those without family in this area and tell you why it's important to make sure your research is included in your Living Will. The one-hour program in our auditorium will be followed by light refreshments in The World of Energy lobby.

Super Tuesday programs are free of charge and no reservation is required.
Upcoming programs, October 12, & December 14.
